BUSINESS BRIEF

Local designer's upscale children's apparel picked up by The Ritz-Carlton, San Juan Hotel, Spa & Casino

Atlanta's popular StinkyKids™ collection now available in the Caribbean

(ATLANTA, June 11, 2007) – Local children's clothing designer Britt Menzies' hand-drawn, cartoon-like creations on t-shirts with the message, "Always be a leader of good," have been making waves in boutiques across the Southeast and now in the Caribbean. The Ritz-Carlton, San Juan Hotel, Spa & Casino in Puerto Rico has recently begun carrying the children's, upscale t-shirts.

"We are thrilled to have our product associated with The Ritz-Carlton brand and available to their guests and travelers from all over the world," said Britt Menzies, founder of StinkyKids.™ "While we are focused on expanding our distribution throughout the Southeast and target markets in the U.S., we hope to one day make our collection available around the globe, especially with our "Always be a leader of good" message as we believe in sharing it with the children of the world."

The StinkyKids™ tees are made with 100 percent cotton and are available in retail outlets in Atlanta and additional stores throughout the United States and in Puerto Rico. The merchandise is also available online at www.stinkykids.com. Tees are available for infants, toddler girls and boys, and also fashion-forward moms. Prices range from $28 - $44 per shirt.
